“ Brian had the biggest heart and the dearest soul. I always hoped I would see him again, so we could take a long walk and talk like we did back when we were young. I've always held on to those memories, and I always will. Forever in my heart. Condolences to your family.

“ I got to know Brian when he would come into the grocery store where I work. We would small talk while he was checking out. The stories he told I learned a lot about his life. He would always say my name 3 times instead of ringing the bell at the service desk. Brian was an unique person and he will be truly missed.
