“ Deloris I'm so sorry I just heard of you passing today. A beautiful giving woman. I'm pretty sure we have known each other almost my entire life.

You would come into the beauty shop in Brewer to get your hair done. That how we met. You taught me 1 little Indian song, monkeys on the bed. You would sit under the hair dryer and rub my back. I never missed a best always asking Carolyn if she had heard from you and how you were doing. We never saw each other through as much as we had in the beauty salon. Dr. Wildman was my doctor. You were at my first wedding. You never failed to send my grandma a card at Christmas a phone call when she was still able. You came to my grandma 's 100th birthday celebration. Thank you for making such an impact and impression on me. I was blessed to have you in my life. You were very much loved.

“ I grew up with Delores as part of our family. She was a dear friend and more like a sister to my grandmother. She always made sure I felt beautiful and smart and loved. When I would have to get a shot from Doc Wildman, I wouldn't have it unless Delores was there to hold my hand - I wanted her over my mom or grandma. She was a beautiful person inside and out and I am better for having her be a part of my life. She was always playing pranks on her friends - from having her a cow pile decorated as a birthday cake and putting TP on the bushes at the pastors house (who was married to her best friend). One year a group of us was lucky enough to get caught at their house in the ice storm of 1979 and we had to spend a few days. It was a great group of people to be stuck with. Delores I love you and I can't wait to see you again.

“ Dolores was so sweet and one of my good friends. She loved going camping with Norman and meeting my late husband and I camping in Mississippi and eating those good Crappie. She will always be in my thoughts and prayers. She loved Norman with all her heart and her Daughter Diane, her husband and her granddaughter and great granddaughter. She will be sadly missed by everyone she knew. Love to Norman and all the family. Fran Kiefer
