“ Sorry to hear where George passed. I had the pleasure of knowing him in our middle school and high school years. He was always pleasant and friendly, and had an infectious laugh. We would occasionally see each other when he worked on the phone lines and I was working a highway crew for a while. My condolences to his family. He was one of the good ones.

“ Life with George was always something. There is one event that will forever stay with both my wife, Cindy and me. We were in the barroom at the Inn at Grand Glaze. George decided to engage my wife in a bit of Indian leg wrestling. Not sure who had the most fun. Them, or us watching. Love you George.
