“ Although you will be sadly missed and thought of often by all who are left behind dear Heather, We promise to remember the times we shared together and will cherish each and every happy moment as the memories come pouring in. You never know where life may take us and the battles we may face, but one thing I know, is this world is a better place because you were in it. You have blessed us with two beautiful angels here on earth who will always be loved and are the best part of you. May God wrap his arms around them and come to understand and know how much love you had in your heart. Rest now, as we realize Heaven couldn't wait any longer. Peace Dear Heather,
