“ I’m so sorry for your loss of Lawrence:
Husband, Dad, Grand Dad, Great Grand Dad, Brother— he should have been a strong healthy man for some years to come. But God wanted him Home to his reward in Heaven.

He was my Uncle Larry, for 50 years of my life. I remember thinking that he was the strongest man alive when I was a child. He was big and tall and always smiling and always had kind words or a clever joke. He was always interested in every one of us - nieces & nephews, friends, family. He always seemed so happy to have extended family around— even (or especially??) when the children are playing with all the happy, excitement and games that are loud and even involve chasing each other.

He was a hard worker. A farmer and businessman. Well respected by everyone who knew him. His best love and his pride was in his family: my Aunt Celesta, Simon, Jason, Pam, Elizabeth, Paula, Angie, Larry; and especially those grand kids! Isabel, Lauren, Katelyn, Christopher, Vivienne, Silas; and great-granddaughter, Camila. His whole face would light up more when he looked at them passing by as they played, when he spoke about them. He wasn’t a braggart at all, but he was ever so proud of everything that you, his family, have accomplished. I know he had to be a great encourager for each of you. He is missed.

I’m sorry that I haven’t been able to be around and that I am unable to attend his funeral today. But I wanted to let you know that even though I am not demonstrative, I love you all and I have been praying every day for health and happiness and joy in your lives since I ever had word that Uncle Larry had the cancer and then this ALS. He was a strong man with all kinds of fight in him. And you all have that coursing through your veins and in your memories. May God bless you all with comfort and healing as you grieve this great loss. And may God guide you to your Heavenly Home one day that you may be reunited & I’m sure Lawrence will have a great home built to hold all of you together and ready to welcome you when your time comes.

Etta (Marietta Yamnitz) & Chris Johnson.
