“ Lenora, (Aunt Sis, as I have always known her) was a caring, loving woman, who always took care of everyone else first. She shared her love, her quiet sense of humor, and any help she could give, to the people in her life. (And her blackberry cobbler was the best!) She will be deeply missed by my mother, Patricia Gentry, and all of the people who loved her, but we know there is a special place in heaven for her.
