“ Paul was a good man. I remember when i stayed with him and Barbara in Perryville. He took good care of Barbara. I learned a few things about working from him. He enjoyed a good joke. I will always remember watching the film at the arch museum and seeing him, in the film, working so high, in the air, as a laborer, on the crew, that erected the gateway monument.

“ Paul was a unique and very special individual. To say that he regretted deeply becoming home bound is an understatement. His life was participating in other lives. He was as sharp as a tack and always was witty. He loved his trek around town visiting until it became impossible for him to do so. He loved animals, particularly cats, and always made sure the neighborhood cat was fed. I picture Paul in Heaven, visiting with the other angels, and wandering in and out, always sharing himself with others. Rest in peace, Paul. A brave warrior til the end. I'll always remember and love you. Always.

“ Paul ask me one day at the pharmacy when my birthday was. I told him and he promised to send me a card. I said aren't you going to write it down? He said he didnt need to. I'll be darn if I didnt get a birthday card from Paul for the last 11 years. He was such a joy always so happy and thinking of others. Prayers to his family for the loss of an amazing man.

“ Sorry to hear the news of Paul passing.
Paul was a joy to be around.
We took Paul on a Franklin County Honor Flight a few years ago. He had never flown before and was quite a hit, with the pilot and airline stewardesses, they made over him!
He loved to play the horses, though he never picked me a winning horse!

*Sympathy to the family,
Rosalie Mcgaugh, Franklin County Honor Flight*

“ I met Paul as we started the Perry County Military History Museum several years ago. I knew he was a WW2 veteran but quickly learned how dangerous his time in Europe was. He became a charter member of our museum board and was an outspoken voice for community affairs for many years. We presented Paul with a Lifetime of Service certificate last January. He will be greatly missed.
