“ I am so sorry for this great loss for your family. In 1982, I moved to Houston, TX, at the same time as Peggy. In fact, we drove down together and, for four years, some great memories were made with all of the other Perryville transplants. We'd take road trips every weekend to see the sites in and around the Houston area. Peggy's kindness and her laugh are what I remember most. To this day, I can't hear a George Thorogood song without thinking of her (running down to the front of the stage at his concert). She was truly a special person. 🥹
