“ I am very much saddened to hear of Rick's passing and sorry for your loss now nearly 2 years ago. I had the good fortune to work closely with him in my first job out of college from 1979 to 1982. He took me under his wing and taught me so many things about IBM computer internals and machine accounting. He also taught my non-Missouri self how to pronounce "Missouri", how soda was what I thought was "pop" (and not something made with ice cream) and that he lived on Diet Pepsi, about his long gun collection and his encyclopedic knowledge about Ford Mustangs. I remember how he only stayed in the St. Louis area during the week and went back to Perryville to run the bar on weekends. In fact, I was following some severe weather tonight and saw that a tornado was headed for Perryville and thought I would give him a heads up...only to find out he had passed. My thoughts and prayers are with you all. May he rest in peace and may his memory be a blessing.
